Hello my name is David

It's amazing the effect of someone using your name. It generates a sense of being known, of belonging, of being cared for, of being loved.

So often in society we can get lost in the crowd and only ever been seen as a customer or consumer.

The God of the universe, our God, the Father of Jesus, knows us by name and calls us by name and even writes our name in his book of life.

One of the ways that we express God's love as we gather together is by welcoming and knowing one another. And not just those that we've known for ages, but like God, welcoming the newcomer and the visitor. To help us do this, we encourage the wearing of name tags. Such a simple thing enables our community to go to a deeper and more inclusive expression of God's love.

Friends, please wear a name tag and please call people by name and please keep introducing yourself to one another. Our communities are growing and so it's a bigger challenge for us to know one another. And in knowing one another we are able to fulfil Jesus' desire for us to love one another.

That's why when I get up front in a service I say "hello my name is David..."

With every blessing to ...[insert own name].

Small Groups

We encourage all members of Grace Anglican Network to be part of a regular small group that studies the bible, prays and supports one another.

If you would like to join a small group please talk to your congregation minister. There are also forms available for St Matt's and St Bart's members that can be found on info central.

Many of our groups will be starting up again in the next couple of weeks and we are looking at stating some new groups as well.
